InTRodUctION

On the occasion of the second edition of F(Ê)AITES DE LA DANSE, a free event open to everyone, Les Ballets de Monte-Carlo, Monte-Carlo Société des Bains de Mer and the Prince's Government have once again combined their efforts and are pulling out all the stops! For more than 24 hours non-stop, the Place du Casino will once again become a gigantic open-air dance floor, as loved by several thousand people in 2017. Once again, hundreds of international artists, virtuoso musicians, dancers at the top of their game and enthusiastic amateurs will go there to carry out the mission we have entrusted to them: MAKE YOU DANCE! For this second edition, we have worked to recreate the essence of what the participants appreciated so much during the first edition, while innovating so that F(Ê)AITES DE LA DANSE 2023 is an even more intense experience!

The first, but not the least, novelty is the duration of the event. It has doubled! The first to take to the dancefloor on July 8, at noon, will be the participants in the F(E)AITES DE LA DANSE Marathon. Completely redesigned, this iconic event will now last twelve hours and will take place in the legendary Salle Garnier of the Casino de Monte-Carlo. We wanted to make this stage, trodden by Les Ballets Russes and Nijinsky, accessible to everyone, so that everyone could encourage our "dancing chain-gang" while enjoying the charm of an exceptional historic setting. Giving the public access to some of the Principality's renowned heritage sites was important to us... Thus, F(Ê)AITES DE LA DANSE 2023 will allow you to open the doors of other places symbolising the refined prestige of Monaco: the gold colours of the Salle Empire of the Hôtel de Paris which will host Ballroom Dances as well as its American Bar where you can take a world tour of musical genres with Talia's Band.

In the afternoon, before the event is in full swing, activities for budding dancers will be on offer, illustrating our desire that this second edition also involves youngsters. At 6 p.m., we will invite all participants to spread out along the famous Giant Barre. A real kick-off for F(Ê)AITES DE LA DANSE, it will allow them to warm up their muscles along with the dancers of Les Ballets de Monte-Carlo. Audiences regularly see these artists that we love so much and who are the pride of Monaco throughout the world. They are the ones who best embody the spirit of this crazy dance night: "The dancers don't dance for the public, they come to make the public dance."

During the Giant Barre exercise, La Guinguette will take the opportunity to light its lanterns. This venue, so popular with the public mainly for food, will see its functions expanded this year in order to create even more links and conviviality. La Guinguette will welcome artists from all over the world who will present, up close to the public, various styles of music and dance. Of course, we won't forget that La Guinquette is there to stimulate the taste buds. Having learned from the first edition, we have completely revised the catering offer. It will work to a twin mission: to be both gastronomic and popular. La Guinguette will complement the main stage of the Casino where an absolutely dazzling programme will unfold: Goran Bregovic and his Weddings and Funerals Orchestra, Roxane Butterfly, the Queen of Tap Dance, introductory workshops to World Dances,

Los Vivancos and their revolutionary Flamenco, Hervé Koubi + Dancers and their poetic Hip Hop, Vanessa Isaac Dance Company who will thrill the Place du Casino with their Brazilian parade, Les Ballets de Monte-Carlo accompanied at midnight by Antonio Castrignano who will perform together «Core Meu», the memorable Tarantella by Jean-Christophe Maillot, a Flash-Mob with these same dancers to make our hearts and feet beat in unison, and finally an open-air disco hosted by DJ Agathe Mougin.

At 2:00 am, we will invite all participants to meet on the Casino Terraces where DJs Agathe Mougin and Jean-Nathan will be waiting for them, ready with their turntables and 3,000 sets of headphones for a giant silent discotheque.

We will thus arrive at the precise point where the first edition of F(Ê)AITES DE LA DANSE ended... For the second edition, we wanted to prolong the pleasure. At 8 a.m. on July 9, F(Ê)AITES DE LA DANSE 2023 will offer a unique Detox Morning. Expertly concocted, this Detox Morning will approach dance and the notion of movement from different, unexpected, sometimes emotional angles: a giant yoga gathering facing the rising sun, an outdoor Tai-Chi-Chuan session, a Family Dance workshop in complete complicity,

Los Vivancos and their revolutionary Flamenco, Hervé
Koubi + Dancers and their poetic Hip Hop, Vanessa
Isaac Dance Company who will thrill the Place du

Table a presentation of inclusive dance associating ablebodied dancers and people with disabilities, and finally a long session of dance and Cuban music to close

F(Ê)AITES DE LA DANSE smoothly.

Les Ballets de Monte-Carlo, Monte-Carlo Société des Bains de Mer and the Prince's Government took great pleasure in imagining this large format event together. Above that satisfaction, F(Ê)AITES DE LA DANSE, an entirely free event of obvious quality, reflects a concept of culture and a way of "making art" special to Monaco. To remind you of the principles here: total support and unfailing trust has always been placed in the artists, the desire to seek out shows from far from the Principality that will remain etched in your memories, and above all the obligation to combine desires and energies to offer a great cultural event on a territory of two square kilometres. We now look forward to meeting you on July 8 and 9, 2023, Place du Casino to experience this wonderful moment with you. See you soon. Long live dance in Monaco!

THEY INVITE YOU Dance

From July 08, 2023 at 12 noon until July 9 at 2 p.m.
Casino Square – Monaco

For more than 30 years, Les Ballets de Monte-Carlo have travelled the world to perform on the stages of the most prestigious theatres. Our dancers give of their best to offer the public the most excellent of choreographic art. When the spectators stand to applaud us, these few minutes constitute a magical moment for the artists we are. But this highlight also generates a certain form of frustration: between the public and the Company remains the barrier of the stage. With F(E)AITES DE LA DANSE! we decided, for one night, to break down this barrier. No seats or dressing rooms... This time, everyone will dance along with us! This event that we are about to experience together will be an opportunity to experience a unique concept. Young and old, families and hardened festival-goers, professionals, amateurs from dance schools or perfect neophytes, inhabitants of the Principality or simple tourists passing through... We invite you all to experience this great gathering organised by La Compagnie des Ballets de Monte-Carlo, the Société des Bains de Mer and the Prince's Government. We challenge you to accompany us until dawn and beyond!

> Jean-Christophe Maillot Choreographer-Director of Les Ballets de Monte Carlo

On the strength of the wager launched and won in 2017 and through the hardships and isolation of the health crisis, $F(\hat{E})AITES$ DE LA DANSE! invites us to share again, in the communion of music and movement, the multi-generational encounter around the timeless art that is Dance.

An extraordinary rendezvous, during a long night where the spectator becomes an agent in the event, $F(\hat{E})AITES$ DE LA DANSE! invites us to meet around the creativity of choreographic artists and to recharge our batteries from the viral vitality of the universal language of dance.

What a great way to celebrate summer, sharing and fraternity, the harmony of bodies in motion and to contribute personally through bodily expression to the creation of a unique artistic experience and the success of the party!

Fully in line with the collaborative and active cultural policy pursued by the Principality with all the cultural stakeholders of the Principality united around Her Royal Highness the Princess of Hanover, Chair of Les Ballets de Monte-Carlo, F(Ê)AITES DE LA DANSE! places the choreographic art at the heart of our cultural landscape and for the benefit of all once again.

Located on the iconic venue of the Place du Casino and its surroundings, this exceptional event offers, once again, a variety of shows and a multiplicity of dance forms.

This second edition of $F(\hat{E})$ AITES DE LA DANSE! is only made possible thanks to active collaboration between the Prince's Government, La Compagnie des Ballets de Monte-Carlo and the Société des Bains de Mer, co-creators of the event, who have joined forces to design and produce this unique event which will undoubtedly remain in the memory of all.

I would also like to thank all the partners, and there are many, who wished to be associated with this major cultural event in the Principality.

So, this July 8, 2023, come and dance from 6 p.m. and throughout the night, and attend the shows, each more wonderful than the next!

We are waiting for you!

Patrice Cellario Government Minister Minister of the Interior

A patron of art and culture for more than 150 years in the Principality of Monaco, the Société des Bains de Mer has been involved in this field since it was established in 1863, a real vector of attractiveness for a cosmopolitan society of players, aristocrats, artists, businessmen... It was in 1911, at the request of Camille Blanc, son of François Blanc, founder of the Société, that Serge de Diaghilev dropped anchor in the Principality with his famous "Ballets Russes," who were revolutionising dance. The whole world rushed to Monte-Carlo Opera to applaud them. The story continued, even more beautifully with Les Ballets de Monte-Carlo, which spread the image of the Principality around the world. A company that we are proud and happy to support. Then in 2017, from an idea of Jean-Christophe Maillot, this crazy project was born, making Monegasques and visitors dance in unison, on a popular and festive summer evening. The Société des Bains de Mer immediately believed in it and mobilised all of its employees to bring it to life on the famous Place du Casino, a showcase for the Principality throughout the world. A pandemic later, we look forward to finally repeating this great dance and party event, which will bring us all together on July 8, 2023 to dance in this beautiful square. In the meantime the square had a facelift in June 2020 to host us in even better conditions, and offer the most beautiful open-air dance floor in the world. On behalf of the Société des Bains de Mer, I am delighted to be associated with this event and wish you a wonderful F(Ê)AITES DE LA DANSE 2023.

The Detox Morning the Next Day

Catering offer

A real kick-off for F(Ê)AITES DE LA DANSE, the «Giant Barre» is the first highlight of the event, inviting participants to gather on the Place du Casino: over several tens of metres, dance barres are installed so that everyone can warm up. Is that all? Of course not... The dancers of Les Ballets de Monte-Carlo will be spread around the square to show the moves they repeat every day to make their bodies more flexible and perfect their technique. By their side, under the leadership of Richard Coudray, Ballet Master specialising in this kind of event, the public will make ready to dance until dawn.

Richard Coudray

Trained at the Regional Conservatory of Tours and then at the National Conservatory of Paris with Alain Davesne, in 1980, he began his career as a dancer at the Ballet Théâtre Français de Nancy, directed by Jean-Albert Cartier and Hélène Traïline. In 1986, he participated in the creation of the Compagnie Temps Present, created by Thierry Malandain. In 1994, he joined the Ballet Nacional Chileno, which he left in 1995, at the request of Jean-Albert Cartier and Hélène Traïline to work with Le Ballet de Nice. In 1997, came the time to re-invent himself... He then became a dance teacher for the Hallet Eghayan Company. In 1998, he reunited with Thierry Malandain in Biarritz and participated in the launch and development of the National Choreographic Centre as Ballet Master. Since 2001, at each edition of "Le Temps d'Aimer la Danse" festival in Biarritz, he has re-invented the gigabarre from year to year.

Guest BIOGRAPHIES: ARTISTS

Greece Dalaras, the Polish star Kayah, the Turkish icon Sezen Aksu, the cult singer Scott Walker, the barefoot diva Cesaria Evora, or recently Gypsy Kings. Goran's previous album "Champagne for Gypsies" was a reaction to the extreme pressure that Gypsies (Roma) have been experiencing lately across Europe (expelled from France, Italy - houses burned in Hungary...). For Bregović «It seems unfair to cover real problems with invented problems – Gypsies are not a problem of this world, they are talent of this world. Everyone is impressed by gypsies – be they unknown gypsy on your street corner, or be they called Charlie Chaplin, Mother Teresa, Elvis Presley or Django Reinhardt, who left a trace in popular culture around the world".

GORAN BREGOVIC AND HIS WEDDINGS AND FUNERAL ORCHESTRA

Goran Bregovic's musical adventures began in the sixties at a music school in Sarajevo. There he started learning to play violin and got acquainted with the counterpoint and harmony, but this just didn't seem fun enough...

Even in Tito's Yugoslavia, rock n' roll music set the sixties on fire, blowing the wind of change. The answers to adolescent revolt that this genre offered lit the way for Goran. While studying philosophy and sociology, he created a rock group «Bijelo Dugme» («White Button»), the band that marked the history of Yugoslavia. Son of a Serbian mother and a Croatian father, living in Muslim Sarajevo, Goran Bregović became everyone's hero as the songwriter/producer of Bjelo Dugme.

Their first album was an immediate success that continued to grow steadily across the whole of Eastern Europe until the end of the eighties. In 14 years, having recorded 12 albums with 3 different singers, the group sold millions of albums and brought together thousands of people each time they performed live. In 1989, noticing the rise of a fanatical nationalistic fever that took hold of the audience in his concerts, Goran Bregović decided to disband Bijelo Dugme.

Nevertheless, even now once in a while, Bijelo Dugme reunite to celebrate their 40th Anniversary in huge shows across the world. By the end of the eighties, the film-maker Emir Kusturica, a fan of Goran's work, convinced Bregović to take part in his next film project. Writing music for «The Time of the Gypsies» allowed Goran to sharpen his sense of musical dramaturgy and to work around Gypsy music that fascinated him. The combination of Kusturica's images and Bregović's music sublimated a poignant story that left a strong imprint.

For «Arizona dream» the duo travelled to the US where Kusturica directed Faye Dunaway, Jerry Lewis and Johnny Depp, and Bregović invited the Godfather of punk rock, Iggy Pop, to perform a few songs for the film soundtrack.

In 1994 in Patrice Chereau's cult film «Queen Margot », Bregović's music lights a sparkle in the eye of the French actress Isabelle Adjani, but also echoes the ongoing Sarajevo siege. The following year, while the war ravages their country, Bregović and Kusturica collaborate one last time for the controversial and acclaimed « Underground », awarded the Golden Palm at Cannes Festival in 1995.

Bregović then goes back to live concerts. With his Wedding and Funeral Orchestra he mixes Gypsy brass musicians with percussions, Bulgarian polyphonies with a choir of male vocalists, a string section with electronic programming ... Dressed in white, seated between his amplifier and his computer, an electric guitar in his hand, Goran conducts each night his motley crew that varies in size (9 to 19 musicians and up to 60 on special occasions) For more than twenty years Goran Bregović and his Wedding and Funeral Orchestra have roamed all continents of the known world on a never-ending tour that totals over 3000 shows so far.

When not on stage, Bregovic composes an oratorio «My Heart has become Tolerant» around the three monotheistic religions, or, with a wink to Bizet, proposes the first Gypsy opera «Karmen with a Happy End»... His acute capacity to understand and assimilate vastly varied musical cultures allows him to incorporate into his music traditional Corsican, Georgian or Bulgarian chants, as well as elements of electronic music. His boundless talent attracts first class artists like the emblematic crooner from

Anchored in jazz culture, the rhythm of her breathing is syncopation, her basic inspirations come to her from Africa and her native Mediterranean. Known for her exceptional talent for improvisation, Roxane Butterfly has been a figurehead of contemporary tap dance for more than two decades, in the United States as well as Europe. Born in Toulon, she is the first woman in the history of tap dance to have had a recognised career in the United States and to have won the prestigious Bessie Award at the Joyce Theater in New York in 1999. She represents a direct link with the generation of her mentors, the Original Hoofers.

A true icon of underground tap dance, she is particularly known for her musical experiments in musical universes distinct from the classic jazz tap tradition, from free jazz to classical music, including flamenco, Arabic and Indian music, electronica, etc. ... Roxane had the immense privilege of sharing her sound with:

jazz legends including George Benson, Les Paul, Stanley Jordan, Ron Carter, Aldo Romano, Benny Powell, Phil Woods, Dennis Charles, Elisabeth Kontomanou...

- pioneers of the world-music scene like Cheick Tidiane Seck (piano), Brice Wassy (drums) and Prabhu Edouard (tabla), Leonard Eto (taiko drum)...
- great figures in the flamenco universe such as Flamenco Tomasito or Carles Benavente to name but a few.

Her inventiveness and versatility have also led her to work with contemporary bassist Barre Philipps, percussionist Evelyn Glennie in the film "Touch The Sound," to create a soundtrack for the documentary "The Origins of Music," as well as jamming with Bartabas's horse! Roxane has been invited to the stages of many music festivals around the world such as Jazz à Toulon (France), the Nice Jazz Festival (France), the Festival de l'Un Monde à l'Autre (Lyon, France), African Nights (Kola Note, Montreal). Her show "Djellaba Groove" opened the famous GlobalFest at the Public Theater (NYC 2006), Summerstage (NYC 2006), Lincoln Center OutDoors (NYC 2007), etc. She has also been a soloist with major orchestras such as the Stamford Philharmonic Orchestra, The New York Virtuosi Orchestra, The Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra, Cab Calloway Orchestra and had the opportunity to collaborate for two decades with the pioneering production of Tamango's Urban Tap.

Appreciated for her talents as a teacher, Roxane has taught in major American universities and the largest musical theatre schools on Broadway (Steps on Broadway, Broadway Dance Center). In 2010, she created the Jimmy Slyde Institute Training Program in Barcelona (JSI), a place to disseminate and teach, in honour of her mentor Jimmy Slyde. Indeed it was this great master of bebop tap, who called Roxane «Butterfly», when they met in 1991 in New York. The pedagogy developed at JSI focuses on transmission, preservation and innovation. In Paris, Roxane is involved in professional training at the Juste Debout School. She is part of the organisation Les Femmes Sont Là by La Fabrique de La Danse and tours with her concert-dance TAPmatazz.

JEAN-CHRISTOPHE MAILLOT & LES BALLETS DE MONTE-CARLO

Born in 1960, Jean-Christophe Maillot studied dance and piano at the Conservatoire National de Région de Tours, before joining the Rosella Hightower International School of Dance in Cannes until winning the Prix de Lausanne in 1977. He was then hired by John Neumeier at the Hamburg Ballet, where he danced in principal roles as a soloist for five years. An accident brought his dancing career to an abrupt end.

His arrival at the Ballets de Monte-Carlo set the company on a new path that quickly developed the level of maturity and excellence for which this company of 50 dancers has been renowned for 20 years. He has created almost 40 ballets for the company, some of which, such as Vers un pays sage (1995), Romeo and Juliet (1996), Cinderella (1999) La Belle (2001), Le Songe (2005), Altro Canto (2006), Faust (2007), LAC (2011), CHORE (2013) and Casse-Noisette Compagnie (2013), Aleatorio (2016), Abstract Life (2018), Core meu (2019), Coppél-i.A (2019)... have forged the reputation of the Ballets de Monte-Carlo across the world. Several of these works are now included in the repertoires of major international ballet companies, such as the Grands Ballets Canadiens, the Royal Swedish Ballet, the Korean National Ballet, the Stuttgart Ballet, the Royal Danish Ballet, the Ballet du Grand Théâtre de Genève, the Pacific Northwest Ballet, the American Ballet Theatre and the Béjart Ballet Lausanne. In 2014, he creates La Mégère Apprivoisée for the Ballet of Bolshoi Theatre.

Also aware of the work of other artists, Jean-Christophe Maillot is known for his spirit of openness and his commitment to inviting choreographers with a different style to create for the company. In 2000, this same desire to present the choreographic art in all its many forms led him to create the Monaco Dance Forum, an international showcase for dance which presents an eclectic proliferation of shows, exhibitions, workshops and conferences. In 2009, he developed the content and coordinated the Centenary of the Ballets Russes in Monaco, which would see over 50 companies and choreographers pass through the Principality in one year, providing entertainment for 60,000 audience members. In 2011, dance in Monaco underwent a major and historical change. Under the presidency of H.R.H. the Princess of Hanover, the Ballets de Monte-Carlo now incorporates the Ballets de Monte-Carlo Company, the Monaco Dance Forum and the Princess Grace Academy under a single organisation. Jean-Christophe Maillot was appointed head of this organisation which now unites the excellence of an international company, the benefits of a multi-format festival and the potential of a high-level school.

"CORE MEU":

Core Meu is a real debauchery of energy, sensuality and precision. Entirely reworked since its first version in 2017, the piece offers a summit meeting between the tarantella and the technicality of a ballet company in full command of its faculties. It thus renews the art of this traditional dance and introduces new horizons to classical dance. Core Meu is thus part of the continuity of an approach that has made the Choreographer-Director of the Ballets de Monte-Carlo unique for more than thirty years: an appropriation of an academic vocabulary brought into line with its time and the emotions of today. Emotions are also an issue with the music of Salento embodied by Antonio Castrignanò and his orchestra from Puglia, since the latter will once again accompany the dancers for a visceral and jubilant piece.

ANTONIO CASTRIGNANÒ & THE PUGLIAN ORCHESTRA "TARANTA SOUNDS"

Antonio Castrignanò is a singer and tamburello player (large drum from Salento), as well as an unflinching defender of the traditional music of the Apulia district, used for dancing the Salento tarantella, Pizzica. The enchanting rhythms of this musical tradition lead to a trance-like state enjoyed by the close to 150,000 people who come and play and dance all night long during the Notte della Taranta event. Through his highly personal approach to this tradition, Antonio Castrignanò transcends the world of southern Italy's folk music. This dance and rhythm are linked to a pagan, perhaps even Dionysian, pagan possession ritual that has persisted in southern Italy, even after it was banned by the Church. The rite has its roots in the myth of a tarantula bite that would poison its victims, the only antidote being a trance-like dance.

Although some attempted to turn the tarantella into a courtly dance by stripping it of its rhythm and meaning, it survived in secret in its original form, retaining all its appealing, curative powers. Revived in present-day Italy by a handful of musicians, this festive musical tradition has garnered success akin to that experienced by rave parties. Rare are the musicians who, like Antonio Castrignanò, manage to strike the perfect balance between its raw, wild essence and flawless musicality.

LES ORGANISATEURS

Train - Create - Share
A high level school forging the talent of the future...
An internationally renowned dance company...
A festival that presents the choreographic art in all its forms

It has taken almost three decades to accomplish this dream in the Principality of Monaco and shape the three current faces of the Ballets de Monte-Carlo.

In 1985, the current Ballets de Monte-Carlo Company was created as a result of the commitment of H.R.H. the Princess of Hanover who wanted to continue the long tradition of dance in Monaco and its famous «Ballets Russes».

The arrival of Jean-Christophe Maillot in 1993 led to the company's international growth through the choreographies he created for it. He also enhanced its repertoire by inviting established or emerging choreographers to work with the exceptional tool of its 50 dancers.

On tour for over 200 days a year, the Ballets de Monte-Carlo is a major culture ambassador for the Principality. Wanting dance in Monaco to be even more influential, in 2000, Jean-Christophe Maillot created the Monaco Dance Forum, an international multi-form dance festival which sees a procession of artists and creators converge on the Principality every year.

In 2009, the Princess Grace Academy, founded in 1975, redefined its objectives and made the professionalisation of each of its students its primary purpose. It is now responsible for maintaining the excellence of classical instruction while remaining open to the influences of modern-day dance.

A Tradition of Cultural Influence

Faithful to the tradition of artistic patronage carried out for centuries by the Princes of Monaco, the Prince's Government pursues an active cultural policy.

The broad lines of this policy are mainly formed around the following areas:

Enable the development of quality programming, by supporting major cultural institutions and contemporary creation.

Conduct government action through a policy of aid and support for local artists, as well as cultural associations and groups in the Principality, by making high-standard cultural facilities available, granting operating grants and project aid, thus allowing great artistic freedom.

Also expand cultural audiences, in particular through the organisation of quality events by the Department of Cultural Affairs, accessible to all and free of charge, as well as through the development of artistic education provided in the Principality.

Cultural action is also carried out on an international scale with the Principality's increased involvement in the programs of UNESCO, the Council of Europe and La Francophonie, as well as further normative reflection on the Principality's possible accession to various international conventions on heritage.

The illustration of this sustained cultural policy is reflected in the share of the budget that the Monegasque State devotes to Culture, on average 5%.

These actions thus make it possible to offer a programme of excellence, both brilliant and extensive for local and regional audiences, but also internationally oriented with the organisation of tours, original creations and travelling exhibitions.

In addition, the cultural programme is disseminated by promoting events to the specialised international press, by targeted actions with audiences at regional (Côte d'Azur, Riviera and Lombardy) and international levels, and by close collaboration with the Direction du Tourisme et des Congrès and the Société des Bains de Mer, in order to fully promote Culture as a vehicle for promoting tourism and coordinate the annual calendar of events.

MONTE CARLO SOCIÉTÉ DES BAINS DE MER

About Monte-Carlo Société des Bains de Mer

Monte-Carlo Société des Bains de Mer has embodied for more than 150 years a new lifestyle unique in the world which has a taste for beauty, the good and wellness. The Resort offers:

Great Luxury Gaming in its casinos, the Casino de Monte-Carlo and the Casino Café de Paris, which have been reinventing themselves since 2016 with innovative offers adapted to all guests, and an excellent reception.

"Haute Couture" experiences within its iconic palaces and their Diamond Suites: Hotel de Paris Monte-Carlo, Hotel Hermitage Monte-Carlo, Monte-Carlo Bay Hotel & Resort, Monte-Carlo Beach.

A gastronomy resolutely in tune with its time: creative, healthy, increasingly local and responsible. Alongside the 4-star restaurants, such as Le Louis XV-Alain Ducasse at the Hôtel de Paris, Le Grill or Le Blue Bay, new international concepts enrich the Monte-Carlo experience, such as Em Sherif at the Hôtel de Paris Monte-Carlo, Pavyllon Monte-Carlo, a restaurant by Yannick Alléno, at the Hôtel Hermitage Monte-Carlo. Not to mention inhouse creations such as the Café de Paris Monte-Carlo.

The most outstanding cultural and artistic experiences, with its own seasonal events, and active participation in the Principality's cultural initiatives and institutions.

Finally, the Resort is full of activities to enjoy as a distinguished guest: the Promenade Shopping Monte-Carlo, the Thermes Marins Monte-Carlo, a haven of well-being set on the sea combining top-of-the-range treatments, sport and nutrition, bars with varied atmospheres, concert halls and leading party venues: Maona Monte-Carlo, Le Club La Vigie, COYA Monte-Carlo, Buddha-Bar Monte-Carlo, and the most iconic club on the French Riviera, Jimmy'z Monte Carlo.

After several years of work, the heart of the Resort around the mythical Place du Casino has completed its transformation to bring the legend into the 21st century, with the renovation of the Hôtel de Paris Monte-Carlo, the creation of the One Monte-Carlo district, the restructuring of the Jardins des Boulingrins, the restoration of the facade of the Casino de Monte-Carlo and the brand new Place du Casino inaugurated in June 2020. In 2021-2022, the Monte-Carlo Beach returned to its original beach and the Café de Paris Monte-Carlo, a veritable institution of Monegasque life since 1868, will reopen its doors in autumn 2023 in a magnified version.

And because the new Monte-Carlo Art of Living must evolve towards increasingly ethical and responsible luxury, Monte-Carlo Société des Bains de Mer has been committed since 2007 to a proactive policy in terms of energy transition, consumption of resources and waste, local gastronomy and preservation of the natural heritage. The Principality of Monaco's leading private employer, the Group launched its fourth ethics charter in 2023 to bring its values of integrity and responsibility to the practice of its businesses.
